

Hi there,

We're hosting a live webcast on Wednesday 10/20, with the Physician Well-Being team at AdventHealth, Leila Durr, Ph.D., Mary Dijkstra, and Michael Torres, MD, MBA, as we discuss AdventHealth's approach to promoting physician well-being, reducing burnout, and cultivating a healthy workplace for clinical providers of care.

Topics include:

- How and why the Physician Well-Being Program at AdventHealth was started
 - Approaches to managing physician burnout and moral injury
 - Examples of positive outcomes in helping physicians navigate their work/life balance, especially during the pandemic
 - Addressing root causes of provider burnout
 - Advice for health systems who want to set up their own physician well-being teams
- Reframing Burnout, Defining Moral Injury

You can register HERE.

Due to the compressed timing, we've been granted permission to record the event and distribute it to registrants. It would be lovely to have you or any of your team members join us.

Warmest regards,

Jill
